

Spherical Bomb Suppression Container

(Trailer Type) Spherical Bomb Suppression Container (hereinafter referred to as product or Bomb Suppression Container) is used to inhibit the blast wave generated by explosive explosion and the killing effect of debris on the surrounding environment. This product contains a Bomb Suppression Container and a trailer for transporting explosives.

Product description

Description

(Trailer Type) Spherical Bomb Suppression Container (hereinafter referred to as product or Bomb Suppression Container) is used to inhibit the blast wave generated by explosive explosion and the killing effect of debris on the surrounding environment. This product contains a Bomb Suppression Container and a trailer for transporting explosives.

This product is widely used in airports, wharves, stations, subways, stadiums, exhibition venues, squares, conference centers, security inspection sites, passenger and cargo ships, railway trains to store suspected explosive and dangerous goods, or transfer, transport explosive hazardous objects, can also be directly destroyed in the tank. It is also applicable to the storage and transportation of initiating explosive device in military enterprises, armies and mines etc.

Features

Advantages: Reasonable structure, convenient operation, safe use and reusability

The explosive inside the tank exploded without loud sound and debris flying out, without any damage to the explosion site.

Switch mode of explosion-proof tank cover: Manual switch and electric switch, suitable for switching under various circumstances.

The trailer is equipped with a driving brake system, reverse anti-braking mechanism and signal lights to ensure safe driving.